

Plantation Estates update at 7:00 PM, Monday, Sept 1, 2008

6:45 PM - Eeb Centanni spoke to her friend with the Orleans Sheriff's Office who lives on Fawnwood Drive in Marrero. He said that the streets of Plantation Estates are essentially dry. There is some wind damage in the neighborhood but nothing major. The streets are clear. He said that there is a tremendous police presence. No one will be able to get in..."

6:20 PM - My cousin is a fireman at Marrero Estelle Fire Station. He just passed in front of my house. I lost a little fascia, but the house is fine. He said the neighborhood fared out very good. Just some tree debris and loose material was in the neighborhood.

5:30 PM - Spoke to a friend who lives in the back of Ames Blvd. on Jeanne Street. She said her garage fell down, but the house and area did well. No flooding.

As Eeb Centanni mentioned, we were lucky and a lot of people are certainly less fortunate than us. You can donate $5 to the American Red Cross by texting GIVE to 24357 on your cell phone. It is added to your bill. This is verified on the American Red Cross website at: http://american.redcross.org/site/PageNavigator/ntld_nolnav_text2help_faqs
